

MARCH BABY (PISCES)

February 19 - March 20

Are you expecting a baby in March? Then you'll be thrilled to know that your baby will have the most winning ways of all babies. You can look forward to the sweetest of 'miles of smiles'!

As a toddler, you'll find that order is something your child does not care much about. Imagination, however, is everything to a Pisces child, talking to imaginary little friends, believing wholeheartedly in magic, fairytales and Santa Claus!

Modest, passive and non-aggressively natured, your Pisces child tends to avoid the limelight rather than be the centre of attention. Not prone to losing his or her temper easily, your child will happily continue his or her own sweet way.

Visit the nearest park or petting zoo often, your Piscean child loves getting close to animals! Your child will feel happier interacting with people than playing with that undoubtedly interesting fun toy.

All children get clinging at a certain stage, but your child might need a little extra care so he or she will learn to be a little less dependent on you. Don't worry, just remember it's just a phase.

You will need to explain a lot about the world a round you: your Piscean child will want to know all sorts of information, absorbing it like a little sponge, which can never be a bad thing! Keep in mind, however, that your eager beaver learner needs to distinguish reality from that wonderful fantasy world.

Nobody can teach you how to be a good parent – except you! Don't worry, to your child you are the perfect parent! Enjoy the precious time with your child, exploring the world through their eyes!
